Two Ministers in Luck.

The members of the Thomson M. E. Church held a very pleasant social in the lecture room of the church last evening. The attendance was good, and all had a pleasant time. The supper was excellent, and the ladies served it with admirable taste. The evening was a very successful one, and the members of the church were very much pleased with the result. A large number of ladies presented by different firms in the city were sold at auction towards the close of the evening. The evening was very satisfactory. During the evening, the audience was called to order by Mr. H. F. Jones, and Rev. Mr. Rider was asked to step in front of the rostrum, when Prof. J. M. Frazer proceeded to make a neat speech, accompanying it with the presentation of a fine hat. Mr. Rider responded appropriately. Presiding Elder Ryan was then called to the rostrum, and likewise presented an elegant hat in a witty speech by Prof. E. M. Thomas. The witty speeches of all the speakers were immensely enjoyed by all present, and the two laymen who figured in the oratorical part of the entertainment were voted a decided success.

THE WORLD OF LABOR.

ENCOURAGEMENT FOR 'THE BOYS.'

Some Glass Workers who have "Come Up Higher."

A Remarkable Record—The Boys' Strike in the Iron Scale—Hillsdale.

Probably no glass house in the country but that of Hobbs, Brockmiller & Co., can show such a record of workmen who have left its employ to fill positions of responsibility in other factories, as that appended. In preparing labor statistics from 1845 to the present time, at this establishment, for the United States Census, it was developed that in 1850 alone eleven gentlemen were employed there who have since risen to high rank in the business in this vicinity. The names of these gentlemen, with the wages they earned in 1850, and the positions they now occupy or have recently held, are given below:

William K. Elson, President Elson Glass Works, $1.12 per "move."
John Osterling, President Central Glass Works, $2.50 per day.
Rody Robinson, Manager Elson, 50 cents per move.
Henry Over, Manager Bellair Lantern Globe works, 45 cents per move.
Jacob Zimman, Manager La Belle Glass Works, 25 cents.
Andrew Baggs, deceased, ex-manager La Belle, $1.12.
John Robinson, Manager Bellair Globe Works, 45 cents.
Henry Crummett, Manager Belmont Glass Works, 31 cents.
John Robinson, ex-manager Belmont and part owner Cumberland Glass Works, 18 cents.
Charles Henderson, Manager Brilliant Glass Works, 18 cents.
James Lezure, Manager Central. This is certainly a sterling record. The names of these gentlemen, with the wages they earned in 1850, and the positions they now occupy or have recently held, are given below:

A STRIKING AFFAIR.

At the South Wheeling Glass Works, the Boys' Strike.

Wednesday night, the striking "carrying-in" boys at the Hobbs, Brockmiller & Co., were given to understand that their demand for an advance of five cents per move would be granted. It was expected that the boys would accept of the offer, but the works would start up without any further trouble, but at that hour the "carrying-in" boys and other department boys employed about the works were found to be on strike. They induced several of the "carrying-in" boys to remain out so as to assist them in their demands, and threatened those "carrying-in" boys who did not work with them, so far as to stone some of the boys who did work, as they were going to their homes yesterday morning.

Yesterday afternoon the strikers held a meeting at Labor Hall—and such a meeting as it was. Boys—10, 12 and 15 years old—were gathered there, and smoked, expecteded and swore, and a few of the boys who did not work, as they were going to their homes yesterday morning.

THE TRIAL TRIP.

Of the Minnie Day—Sale of the Sidway. General Review News.

Yesterday morning at 8 o'clock the trip of the Minnie Day left the wharf on her trip, which was a very successful one, and a factory on the Ohio River. A number of gentlemen, including an INTELLIGENCER reporter, made the trip. The upper works were in an unshaken condition, the carpenters and painters still being at work on her cabin, but warm places were found about the boilers and the regular and a brush with her on the return, but after going down twenty miles and not meeting that little traveler, the boat was turned and the home trip commenced. Going down with 140 pounds of steam twenty miles an hour was made the wheels making 24 revolutions per minute. On the return trip, with 135 and 140 pounds of steam, the trip was made. The trip was made. The trip was made.

Up at New Cumberland the fight between Mayor Smith and the town council is becoming interesting and there is no telling when the affair will end. Thursday evening the Mayor headed a posse and marched to the new quarters provided by council, secured the council members and transferred them to the old building, the house for which expired the first of April. The building secured by council was erected for a brass band and the Mayor ordered its removal, condemning it as nuisances.

Two Ministers in Luck.

The members of the Thomson M. E. Church held a very pleasant social in the lecture room of the church last evening. The attendance was good, and all had a pleasant time. The supper was excellent, and the ladies served it with admirable taste. The evening was a very successful one, and the members of the church were very much pleased with the result. A large number of ladies presented by different firms in the city were sold at auction towards the close of the evening. The evening was very satisfactory. During the evening, the audience was called to order by Mr. H. F. Jones, and Rev. Mr. Rider was asked to step in front of the rostrum, when Prof. J. M. Frazer proceeded to make a neat speech, accompanying it with the presentation of a fine hat. Mr. Rider responded appropriately. Presiding Elder Ryan was then called to the rostrum, and likewise presented an elegant hat in a witty speech by Prof. E. M. Thomas. The witty speeches of all the speakers were immensely enjoyed by all present, and the two laymen who figured in the oratorical part of the entertainment were voted a decided success.

Up at New Cumberland the fight between Mayor Smith and the town council is becoming interesting and there is no telling when the affair will end.
